THIMBLE FIRST, FLUFF SECOND, IN OPENING RACE

Favorite Gets Away to a Good Start and Finishes a Length in Front.

ROBERT OLIVER VICTOR.

Defeats Algardi After a Driving Finish on the Flat in Steeplechase.

By Vincent Treanor.

SARATOGA RACE TRACK, AUG. 22.—Thimble, the favorite, with Toddie Rice up, did not get away as easily as in her last race and won the opening event at a mile by a length. She followed the well-bred Thimble as far as the latter could go and went to the front in the final eighth. Rice had to shake Thimble with a couple of cracks of the whip to get up, but she finally drew away. Turnabout did what she always does when asked to go a mile, she quit in the last eighth after making all the pace, and even Fluff came from behind her at this stage to beat her out of the place money.

Robert Oliver won the steeplechase from Algardi after a driving whipping finish on the flat from the last hedge home. The horses trained by J. W. Healy but owned by different men were coupled in the betting, but this didn't prevent them racing their respective heads off to get to the wire. Surf ran second behind Algardi, and even Fluff came from behind her at this stage to beat her out of the place money.

MAYO CHARGES "DROWNING" OF MRS. CHEATHAM IS HOAX AS WIFE IDENTIFIES CLOTHING

Elder Woman Vanishes at Coney Island After Fight Over Grandchild.

Declaring that he believes the report of the disappearance and supposed death by drowning at Coney Island yesterday of Mrs. E. S. Cheatham, his wife's mother, is a hoax, Roy Alfred Mayo, an investment broker, in affidavit filed in the Supreme Court today in answer to Mrs. Mayo's suit for divorce, charges his wife and her mother with illegal practices in Denver in 1913 and that once before Mrs. Cheatham had pretended suicide to conceal the fact that she was serving a sentence in jail in Chicago for shoplifting.

In referring to this incident Mayo says that a detective went to their apartment and requested Mrs. Mayo to go to a department store regarding some trouble her mother was in. Mayo says he went also and learned that his mother-in-law had been sent to prison for shoplifting. He swears he found Mrs. Cheatham a prisoner under the name of Mary Perkins. Mayo, according to his affidavit, learned that she had twenty-two days to serve, at the end of which time she would be released if her fine of $31.50 was paid. Mayo says he paid the fine.

Attached to the affidavit is a receipt of the Department of Correction in Chicago for the money paid by Mayo. Mrs. Cheatham was released April 18, 1917.

Mayo also charges that at Pueblo, Colo., July 10, 1913, three years before he married Mrs. Mayo, she and her mother and H. F. Neher were engaged in a blackmailing scheme. Chief of Police J. M. Daly of the Pueblo Police Department submitted an affidavit showing that on March 23, 1914, Neher admitted to the police official that he and the two women had participated in blackmailing operations throughout Colorado.

Another affidavit incorporated in the papers is that of J. J. Williams, formerly Mayor of Memphis, Tenn., signed by his wife, Mrs. Mattie C. Williams, and their two sons, Gordon and Joseph J. Williams, alleging that after the death of E. S. Cheatham,

U. S. CHILD LABOR LAW HELD INVALID

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 22.—Judge James E. Boyd, in Federal Court, today held the new Federal Child Labor Law unconstitutional. The Owen-Keating Child Labor Law was also held unconstitutional by Judge Boyd two years ago and that ruling was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. The opinion today was rendered in the case of the Vivian Spinning Mills of Greensboro, N. C., who asked an order restraining J. W. Bailey, Collector of Internal Revenue, from enforcing the act. The law imposed a federal tax of 10 per cent on the profits derived from products on which child labor was employed.

MRS. JONES LEADING IN PLAY FOR GOLF TITLE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Evelyn Jones of Olympia Fields, recent winner of the Chicago women's golf title, led the early finishers today in the qualifying round of the annual championship tournament of the Women's Western Golf Association with 42-47-89, which equaled women's par for the course and was one stroke better than the 48-42-90 returned by Miss Dorothy Hughes, a young Midwestern player. The tournament is being played at the Westmoreland Country Club, Evanston.

BARE-KNEE PARADES BARRED BY POLICE AT LONG BEACH

LONG BEACH, L. I., Aug. 22.—Bare knees in Long Beach must be confined within walls or restricted to the bathing beaches. The edict has gone out from Capt. Walter Barrascale of the Long Beach police. Motorists entering the village limits are notified by a sign, and yesterday eight or ten who started their customary parade on foot to the beach in bathing costumes without their limbs being properly covered below the knees, Capt. Barrascale said. "Neither will we permit people to go about the streets without bathing suits. These robes must extend below the knees."

COLLINS DECLINES TO RUN, CLEARING WAY FOR TALLEY

Justice's Formal Action Leaves Little Doubt of Back-Drop by Murphy.

HASKELL CAMPAIGN ON. Judge Promises Hot Fight—Curran Headquarters Are Opened.

Justice Cornelius F. Collins of the Court of Special Sessions formally filed with the Board of Elections today his declination of the Tammany designation for nomination to the Court of General Sessions. This clears the way for the designation of Judge Alfred J. Talley, who was originally turned down by Tammany at the last minute, although it had been generally understood that he was to be allowed to stand for election to the office to which he was appointed by Gov. Smith.

The Tammany Committee on Substitutions and Withdrawals will meet tomorrow or Wednesday. Inasmuch as the declination of Justice Collins was prompted by his desire that Judge Talley should be substituted for him there is little doubt as to the backdown of Charles F. Murphy in the Talley matter.

Two campaigns for the nomination for Mayor which will appear to the enrolled Republican voters were launched today—that of Mayor Henry H. Curran, who has the Coalition endorsement, and that of Judge Theodore L. Haskell of Brooklyn, who is running as a straight Republican.

Judge Haskell's managers announced that he is going to make a campaign that will make the city sit up and take notice. He will have headquarters in each of the five boroughs. Before the primary election on Sept. 13 he expects to be listened to by every enrolled Republican voter and thousands of voters who are not enrolled.

CROWD LOOKS ON AS BANDITS GET $2,000 IN HOLD-UP

Patrick Moyland, fifty years old, a messenger for Mark Cross & Co., 404 Fifth Avenue, was held up at a hold-up on Friday afternoon on 34th Street between 8th and 9th Avenues, and robbed of the shop payroll, amounting to between $2,000 and $3,000. He struggled on the sidewalk for fifteen minutes while a crowd of more than 100 looked on and not a hand was lifted to aid him.

ARTIST KILLS SELF RATHER THAN LIVE ON RICH FATHER

Harry Cohen, Shoe Manufacturer's Son, Takes Gas in His Lodgings.

NOTE TELLS MOTIVES. Calls Life "Sordid, Monotonous Grind" and Not Worth Living.

Harry Cohen, an artist and son of Louis Cohen, a wealthy manufacturer of theatrical shoes who lives at No. 610 Riverside Drive, was found dead of illuminating gas today in lodgings at No. 356 West 42d Street he had occupied for the last year.

He had resisted all efforts of his father to take him into business, but had been unable to support himself with pen and ink drawings, though some of his work had been highly commended.

In his lodgings was a letter from Frank Bacon, the actor, acknowledging the receipt of a portrait sketch which the actor said had been hung on the wall of his dressing room and was praised by all his friends.

On the dressing table of the young man's room was found this open letter: "August 21, 1921. 'I have decided to take gas because I feel my life is not worth living. I am disgusted with the daily, sordid, monotonous grind. 'In my heart I am without ill feeling for any one. I feel that I am out of place here, where all is strife, and what I want is peace. 'My parents live at No. 610 Riverside Drive. I have a savings account in the Franklin Savings Bank. All my efforts I leave to my sister Alice, to dispose of as she sees fit. 'Cohen's death was disclosed by Frederick Kaptitzky, who occupied the next room. He traced an odor of gas to the door between the rooms, which was locked, and broke it down.

WOMEN WHO BOB HAIR MUST TAKE OUT BARBERS' LICENSES IN CONNECTICUT.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 22.—Women who bob hair will be required to take out a barber's license, under a ruling made public today by the State Barbers' Commission. Attorney General Italy has given a formal opinion to the commission that "bobbing of hair" comes within the definition of hair cutting and those who engage in it are to be classed as barbers.

CONGRESS HOPELESSLY SPLIT OVER HOME HOUGH RAIDS MADE WITHOUT WARRANTS

Big Change in Sentiment of the People Seen as Senate For First Time Defies the Anti-Saloon League's Orders.

By David Lawrence. (Special Correspondent of the Evening World) WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (Copyright, 1921).—The reaction against Prohibition, or rather the extremes to which its advocates have gone in attempting to enforce their ideas, has come at last. Congress stands today divided as it never has been before on the issue of whether a man's home is protected by the Constitution of the United States against search without a legal warrant.

TIGHE INDICTED FOR ASSAULT ON THREE CHARGES

Grand Jury Acts Against Cop on Complaints of Two Women and Cripple.

The Grand Jury today returned three indictments for assault in the first and second degrees against Patrolman Charles F. Tighe of Inspector's staff, who on July 23 beat up men, women and children in a restaurant at No. 600 Ninth Avenue.

RED CROSS OFFICIAL ACCUSED OF STEALING $14,000 TO PLAY RACES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—C. E. Wilson, Second Assistant Treasurer of the American Red Cross, was arrested today, charged with larceny following an audit of his books which showed a shortage of about $14,000. The warrant specifically charged the theft of $500, but Red Cross officials said this was only one of a number of charges against him. According to the police, Wilson admitted shortages of more than $13,000 and attributed his misfortune to gambling on horse races. The loss is fully covered by a surety bond.
